RT series

T-series guitars combine the simplicity, looks, sound and feel of traditional instruments with the technological advances today's players expect from Ibanez. RT traditional features include the warm, vintage sound of an alder body, a fuller, rounder Viper neck, a standard tremolo, Fifties-style pickguards and the natural wood beauty of transparent finishes (except BK). The modern is represented by the Ibanez RG body shape and contours, locking tuners, a 24 fret neck and the versatile H-S-H pickup configuration.

Magnum locking tuners (left) provide excellent tuning stability.

The new Ibanez T2.0 synchronized tremolo bridge incorporates knife-edge pivot points and a case (see inset) for full tone and great stability.

A push-pull tone pot taps each humbucker pickup.

All Ibanez models with H-S-H pickup configurations utilize the "Split-5" five position switching system (shaded coils are on).

S series

The phenomenally successful Ibanez S series continues its evolution with the addition of the new 4735. The 4735 combines Ibanez' original slim, comfortable S body style with the new fuller, rounder Viper neck, TZ-II non-locking tremolo and Magnum Lock tuning machines. Gold hardware and transparent finishes over mahogany give it a classic appearance.

The S series continues to be a true "player's guitar" available in a variety of different pickup combinations utilizing Ibanez' exclusive pickups. S series guitars feature Ibanez' famous Lo Pro Edge Tremolo system or the Gibraltar II fixed tailpiece on the 24-3/4 inch scale length 4705.

The new 4735 uses the same TZ-II tremolo found on the RT series.

Often imitated, the Ibanez S series' sleek, comfortable mahogany body offers unparalleled playability and warmest of tones.

S series guitars are equipped with the streamlined Lo-Pro Edge which allows both heavy tremolo playing and traditional right hand picking placement.

SDGR series

Ibanez takes its Soundgear bass concept two steps further with the introduction of the new SR890/895 and SR2000/2005 four and five string basses. The SR890/895 basses feature beautifully finished ash bodies with smooth, transparent finishes and gold hardware, while the SR2000/2005's neck-through-the-body construction provides excellent stability and sustain. All new basses are equipped with Ibanez' American designed AFR active pickups and two band EQ systems.

Existing Soundgear basses continue the tradition of offering high quality and professional playability in four, five and six string instruments.

The SR2005 utilizes the new Active-Cast B-V bridge and neck-through body construction for superior stability and sustain.

EX370 TP

EX3700 & 1700 models

or 1992, Ibanez introduced innumerable improvements to the EX series of guitars and basses, including American designed pickups, low profile locking tremolos, more stable necks and such styling developments as flame maple tops and neck binding.

The new EX1700 and EX3700 continue this trend with excellent transparent colors, body binding and gold hardware. The EX3700 also features a flame maple top, neck binding, American designed pickups and the low profile bridge (licensed by Floyd Rose) already standard on the EX300 series.

EX 3700 guitars feature the 183 Lo Profile Tremolo (Floyd Rose Licensed) and body and neck binding.
