Ibanez MADE IN JAPAN

It isn't uncommon for highly expensive collector's instruments made in boutique shops, one at a time, to achieve the extreme levels of precision desired by today's pro player. But our Ibanez luthiers in Japan are some of the very few –some even say the only– guitar and bass makers that can achieve that consistent level of craftsmanship in instruments for the working player. So it's not surprising that artists and music shops with a pro clientele have clamored for more Japanese-made models. And because we're Ibanez, we've listened. Now in 2009, all Ibanez Prestige guitars and basses will be made exclusively in Japan.
